June 2018

Dear ,

Alain Fabian

Head of Business and
Technical Services and Training
SWIFT | Americas & UK region

Benjamin Franklin once said 'Tell me and I forget, teach me and I may remember, involve me and I learn'. Anyone can probably remember that the best teacher they've ever had was probably the one who involved his classroom the most.

We, at SWIFT Professional Services, strive to engage our learners to increase focus, sharing of experience, and to promote a lasting learning experience.

Our refreshed Security Bootcamp is the perfect example of a dynamic session including games, practice sessions, group work and reflection time. I recommend you check out the sessions scheduled in your region and make sure you register quickly as places are limited. I also encourage you to review our comprehensive training catalogue and the latest updates we are highlighting in this newsletter.

Enjoy!
